

THE GOLDEN STAR IS NOW AVAILABLE!

The badge of the Orange County Sheriff's Department has taken many forms since it was first worn in 1889. And now, for the first time anywhere, the history and traditions behind these badges are revealed with the release of a new commemorative book – The Golden Star. All sales will support the development of the Orange County Sheriff's Museum and Education Center.

Now available for sale at the Orange County Peace Officer's Association Store, this book details the 118-year history of our badges with brilliant full-color, larger than life-size photographs, along with their descriptions and the fascinating stories behind them. More than 70 badges are covered, from those issued to regular sworn deputies to badges worn by special deputies, reserves, and law enforcement agencies which merged with OCSD. The history of the department's patches, medals, and other uniform insignia is detailed as well. Designed to appeal to law enforcement personnel, historians, and collectors alike, this one-of-a-kind book is being offered for a limited time only. If you missed your chance to pre-order, you still have an opportunity to own this piece of department history.

This 136-page, 8½" x 11" coffee-table book is printed in full color on high-gloss, acid-free paper in a hardbound cover. Selling for $45.00 exclusively at the OCPOA store at the OCSD Katella Training Facility, this book is available for a limited time while supplies last (reduced prices and shipping are available for quantity orders). All proceeds from this book will be used to support the development of the Orange County Sheriff's Museum and Education Center, which will display the department's historic memorabilia and increase public awareness of the law enforcement profession.
